VERY REV. WILLIAM L. KELEHER, S.J.

With the turn of the year, the committee in charge of the Public Campaign decided to terminate the activity of the District Committee. While our quota was not reached, we feel that we have gone about as far as we can go in this particular area and after a careful study of the situation arrived at our decision. Let me take the occasion now to thank most sincerely the local chairmen who, under the direction of Mr. Garrity, served so loyally and generously in their respective areas. I think I appreciate the difficulties you faced and so now I congratulate you most earnestly for what has been accombished.

As a by-product of the campaign a year ago and of this last campaign we hoped for a rebirth of the local Boston College Clubs. I note with interest and pleasure that many of these clubs are reorganized and I sincerely hope that others will follow their lead. Many thanks and my congratulations go out to those individuals and clubs which have reorganized, and to them I promise the full cooperation of the College in all their interests and activities.

In other fields of the campaign we shall go on hoping that the spring of 1948 will be as happy as was the spring of 1947 and that Alumni Day in June will afford an occasion for us to announce success again. There remains about $200,000 to be reached, if we are to attain our goal this year as we did a year ago, and I feel that with the cooperation of all this goal can be attained.

Speaking with the students here at the College, I find one objection frequently repeated, a question put to them by the Alumni; "Where is the money we gave for the Memorial Gymnasium?" To clear up an apparent difficulty, let me assure you that the promise we made a year ago has been fulfilled, that the money is still here intact as you gave it to us and will remain so until we can put it to the purpose for which it was donated. If the Alumni body feels that the amount which has been contributed will erect a suitable memorial to their sons and brothers, I am ready to go ahead. If on the other hand, they would prefer to build this fund until we can erect a fitting memorial to our war dead, then we shall delay. Personally, I lean towards the latter plan. However, it is the contribution of the Alumni and I feel that you should make the decision in this matter.

I must remind all again of the change of dates for the applications for the class entering in September 1948. All applications should be filed at the College before March 1st and the examinations are scheduled for early in April. May I ask all who are interested to cooperate with us in this matter in order that the already overburdened staffs in the offices of our various Deans may clear applications in good time and get back to the successful applicants word of acceptance at an early date.

We have made every effort here to acknowledge all contributions to our Building Fund Campaign. Perhaps we have slipped in cases, so I take this occasion to communicate to all my own sincere appreciation and that of all at Boston College for the generous support given us by the members of our Alumni Association. We thank you sincerely for what you have done yourselves and all the fine contacts and friends you have made for the College. It is our sincere wish and prayer that the graduates of the College will measure up to the confidence you and our friends have placed in us this year.

THE HISTORY OF BOSTON COLLEGE*

How well do you know Boston College? How well does any alumnus know his college? You know, of course, your own classmates, with whom you spent four years. You know, too, the three classes that preceded your own, or at least the more prominent members of these classes. You know, probably less well, the three classes that followed yours. You know the campus, the buildings, one or more of the rectors, and many of the faculty. Very specially, you know the football teams and perhaps the baseball and basketball and hockey and track teams. If you have a fair share of college spirit, you have attended ban quets and reunions, and have looked with equal amazement at the old fogies who give allegiance to numerals that antedate your birth, and the very young fry who could not conceivably have finished a regular college course. All in all, you know your college only in a very limited way, and in relation to a narrow period of time. You belong to a definite college generation, which has heard reports of the "good old days," but which has no integrated, balanced and complete picture of the College as a whole, in the full sweep of its history.

This was true of the writer and of his friends, as well as of the rest of the Alumni. It would necessarily remain true until some tireless soul would take on the long, tedious, meticulous task of research and compilation, and then set forth the results in a History of Boston College which would be complete and accurate, and at the same time interesting and readable. It is true no longer for this reviewer, and need not be true for you. The research and compilation has been done: in the archives of Boston College and other Jesuit houses in the United States and Rome: in the archives of the Archdiocese of Boston and elsewhere; in contemporary reports in the daily papers, the Pilot, the Stylus and elsewhere: in magazine articles and books. The data thus revealed, surprisingly rich and colorful, has been compiled and organized, so that the apparatus of learning is nowhere embarrassing to a nontechnical reader, and yet is present to guide professional historians in further studies. The text itself is lucid, and the narrative runs smoothly and well. Granted a reader who is interested in the College, the new History will be not merely informative, but fascinating as well..

Quite properly and of necessity, Father Dunigan has restricted his History to the College itself. He does not treat, save in passing mention, the history of athletics: Nat Hasenfus, 22, has done that well. There is no attempt to tell the story of the Alumni, — who they were, and what they did: these records must be sought elsewhere. But it is the story of Boston College itself, in all its origins: what new thing happened, when ,how and why.

"A History of Boston College" was reviewed by Rt. Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, President of the Class of 1914 and Pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton.

To this reviewer at least, the beginning and the end are the most interesting pages: how the College actually began, and how and why it has expanded, in modern times, in all its various schools and courses. There are 124 pages needed to describe the slow and difficult preparations for the first awarding of AB's, in 1877: an inspiring history of dogged faith and unconquerable enthusiasm which won victory over obstacles of every sort, economic, social and political; and there are about 140 pages to tell of the modern period of the College, since it came to University Heights, filled with information as to all the developments in college activities since that memorable day.

But above all else, the History gives a unified perspective. In its beginnings, its middle years, or these its latest days, the College lived its own organic life, independently of (though influenced by) the ever-changing rectors and professors and students. There was and is a constant purpose: to bring to each latest generation a disciplined training in the accumulated wisdom of the ages; in religion and philosophy and the arts and sciences. A basic plan of operation is constant: but the form and direction and extent of action varies as do the times and the opportunities of the day. To see this and to appreciate it, is to acquire a new understanding of what Boston College was and is. It is a necessary and inspiring viewpoint for every Alumnus; it should be a required reading for every undergraduate.

COMMUNION SUNDAY

On February 29 a General Alumni Communion Sunday will be observed by members of the active Boston College Clubs in Greater Boston. Alumni will receive Holy Communion and attend Communion Breakfasts in their own communities. It is expected that the attendance will exceed last year's figure of 1200.

At the Heights the President, Very Rev. William L. Keleher, S.J., will address the Newton group. Rev. David R. Dunigan, S.J., will sneak to the Belmont Club; Rev. Thomas E. Shortell, S.J., to the Milton Club; Rev. Joseph G. Doherty, S.J., to the Medford Club; Rev. Daniel Linehan, S.J., to the Morth Shore Club in Salem; Rev. John L. Bonn, S.J., to the Quincy Club; Rev. Francis X. Diskin, C.S.P., '40, to the Somerville Club; Rev. John W. Doherty, S.J., to the South Boston Club; Rev. John A. O'Callaghan, S.J., to the Waltham Club.

Reservations may be made with the local chairman or at the Alumni Offlice (CApitol 7-8545).

REV. JAMES J. McDERMOTT, S.J.

Rev. James J. McDermott, S.J., a member of the faculty from 1926 to 1928 and later Dean of Freshmen, died December 1 at the Carney Hospital, South Boston.

Born in New Bedford Father McDermott entered the Society of Jesus in 1911 spending his novitiate at St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Pough-keepsie, N.Y. He was a member of the faculty at Canisius High School, Buffalo, N.Y., from 1918 to 1922. He was ordained in 1925 after completing his theological studies at Woodstock (College, Maryland, Father McDermott also taught at Holy Cross, Weston College and at the Jesuit House of Studies, Lenox.

CANDLEMAS LECTURES

The Declan X. McMullen Company of New York (225 Broadway) announces the publication of last year's Candlemas Lectures on Christian Literature. "The Heresy of Courtly Love", by the Rev. Alexander J. Denomy, C.S.B., Ph.D., of the Pontifical Institute of Medieval Studies. has already been highly praised as a most valuable contribution to the study of medieval literature in general and an unusually keen analysis of the origin and character of courtly love in particular. The author, who is editor of the scholarly journal Medieval Studies and who was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship during the past year, is known as one of the best medievalists of our time. In his lecture he traces the idea of romantic and passionate love current in modern life and literature back to its source: Courtly Love, the literary invention of the Provencal troubadours of the early 12th century. He discusses the basic features of that invention, and attempts to explain the anomaly of its appearance in a Christian age as a phase of the enduring influence of Arabian philosophy on Christian thought.

The volume, which makes a dignified and handsome appearance in a maroon and gold binding, carries an introduction by the Rev. William Lane Keleher, S.J., President of Boston College. Copies, which sell for $1.50, may be had from the publisher or at the Boston College Bookstore.

The Candlemas Lectures for 1948 were given on February 1 and 8 in the College Library by Dr. Bernard M. Peebles, of St. John's College. Annapolis. Dr. Peebles' subject was "The Poet Prudentius."

FOR THE FIRST TIME ON THE AIR, the Presidents of the leading universities and colleges of the Boston area assembled on February 1 for a special discussion on ad. It education by radio, which was presented over WHDH cn the first anniversary of the Lowell Institute Cooperative Broadcasting Council. Seated, left to right: Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, President of Boston University; Dr Karl T. Compton, President of M. I. T.; Dr. Leonard Carmichael, President of Tutts College; Dr. Carl S. Ell President of Northeastern University; and Dr. James Pryant Conant. President of Harvard University. Standing: Mr. Ralph Lowell, Trustee of the Lowell Institute and Rev. Stephen A. Mulcahy, S.J., Dean, speaking for the Very Rev. William L. Keleher, S.J., President, who was ill.

J. F. HARKINS, '27

Effective in January, Rt. Rev. Frederic J. Allchin, '00, and Very Rev. Daniel J. Donovan, '16, were relieved of their duties as Diocesan Director and Executive Secretary, respectively, of the Holy Name Society in the Diocese of Boston. Rev. Francis F. McElroy, '29, has become head of the Society with the title of Executive Director. He formerly served as Assistant Executive Secretary.

Recently elected as the second president of the Society is J. Frederick Harkins, '27. He was the first vice-president of the Society, Mr. Harkins is a lawyer (Harvard Law School) living at 41 Laurel Drive, Needham. He is Counsel to the Rent Control Bureau of Boston. He is married to the former Alice Anne McCormac of Salem and has two children, Alicia and Thomas Michael.

An important part of the Holy Name Society is the Speakers' Bureau, composed of laymen who lecture before the Society's parish units. Alumni members are:

SPORTS

FOOTBALL

The football season is now a matter of history a season of five victories and four defeats. Since the entire year, with the exception of the Holy Cross game, was covered in the December issue, there is no point in repetition here. The Holy Cross game was crushing from a Boston viewpoint, for the Crusaders roared to town in a game sparked by the splendid play of a Holy Cross backfield that played its best game of the year, Bobby Sullivan and Bobby Farrell were outstanding, as they followed devastating interference, especially on the Holy Cross single wing offensive. Our lads fell victim to the three major errors of the season - fumbles, penalties, and offsides, else the purple tinge would not have been so pronounced. Bright spots of a dull and cheerless afternoon were the fight that the Eagles showed in the last quarter and the fact that they did not quit even in the face of discouragement.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is having a successful year, for the play of the five is far smoother now that it no longer depends on the lanky Elmore Morganthaler. The present record of five victories and three defeats is very creditable to the coach and the team. Siena College calpht the Eagles practiceless during the Christmas holidays and defeated them twice, but except for this New York State team, the only club to down B. C. was Rhode Island State, perennial top-notcher.

The season opened with a 76-58 loss at Rhode Island. Here Tom O'Brien vied with Ken Goodwin for scoring honors. O'Brien gives notice that he may become B. C.'s best basketeer since the days of Tommy Murphy. Lining up for the new edition of the Eagles were Carr, Woolf, Higgins, Kenney, Letvinchuk, Crimmins, Fitzgerald, O'Brien, Ryan, Stagoff, and Strug. Dan Bricker, Brooklyn star, was outstanding in a thrilling 67-61 win over St. Anselm, for the tall sophomore scored 18 points, closely followed by O'Brien with 17 and by Letvinchuk with 13. The good work continued against A. I. C., 66-51, Boston leading all the way. Kenney, highest scorer in other years, but victim of an operation, had an excellent night, but Bricker, Letvinchuk, O'Brien, and Carr scored the most points. Higgins was excellent, and Mort Stagoff did well.

Harrard was beaten in a distinct upset, 62-50, a victory made possible by the superb play turned in by O'Brien and Bricker. Higgins had a field day as B. C. gained some meed of satisfaction for a long Crimson series without a previous Boston triumph.

Siena College defeated the Eagles twice, both at Albany and at Boston. Team play was lacking and shooting was entirely off, as the Sienaus won 59-50 and 51-31. On the road the Eagles led until the end; at home they were never in the hunt, although Bricker starred. Two victories over highly-rated clubs followed the Siena series, for Providence was outscored 62-43 and Manhattan 66-57. Both visitors were prime favorites, but an ever-improving team play and the shooting of Higgins. Stagoff, Bricker, O'Brien and Letvinchuk made victory possible.

HOCKEY

The hockey team has outdone the most sanguine hopes of Coach Kelley, for at present only Harvard has trimmed the Eagles, while the outstanding upset of the year was provided by the Maroon when it won 4-3 over Jeremiah's great Dartmouth six. Excellent play by Bernie Burke at goal, by Songin at defense, and the hustle of the whole team have turned the season into a pleasant surprise. Harvard edged the Maroon 4-3, when Bob Mason's goal was short by one to catch the lead taken by the Crimson. B. C.'s goals were scored by Songin, Gallagher, and Mason. Devens College, new member of the N. E. League, was beaten, 4-2; then M. I. T., despite the loss of both defense regulars, Songin and Gallagher, injured in an automobile accident, and lost to the team for weeks. A wildand-wooly thriller ended in a 7-6 victory over Northeastern, when Mahler drove in the clincher.

The return of Songin was a deciding factor in the Dartmonth game, for he led such an assault on the Green net that the Eagles astounded the ice followers in a thrilling upset victory, 43, in one of the best games ever played at the Arena. To the Kelleymen went the honor of being the second team to defeat the Indians in three years. Threadgold was the high scorer, with two tallies, Songin scored one himself, while Johnny Kelley drove in the fourth counter. Hats off to Coach Kelley, who is doing an excellent job!

TRACK

The track season is in its infancy, yet we feel that we can have hopes that it will be successful. In Captain Tom Greehan we have an excellent leader, who has recovered his old speed, as is evidenced by his tying his old mark in the hurdles when he lowered the mark for the NEAAU meet in Malden to 5.2, and also for his eye-lash and not unquestioned loss to Matt Branche at the Y meet. At Huntington Ave., Ryder's boys did not do badly, for among the heat winners or point scorers on a very much abbreviated B. C. entry list were Greehan, Gil Walker, Irving Howe, Sarkis Dakasian, Richard Newhouse, and Ed. Caskin.

New to the Alumni is the latest sports activity on the Heights, the Outing Club, This club opened its intercollegiate career with a notable victory over Brown, Tufts and Northeastern at West Ossipee. The new sport, organized a year ago, made its debut at the invitation of the Northeastern Skiers Carnival Committee, and scored 144 points to edge out Brown by one point, Northeastern by 3.3 and Tufts by 3.7. The meet was featured by slalom races, in which the skier zigzags through a path of poles set along the course, and by open-trail races at breakneck speed. Mal Connor led the pack, scoring righest honors for the day; John Ginty and Paul Donovan aided the total by excellent work, while Bob Hardy took two seconds and a third. Other scorers were Bob Scannell and Tom Sweeney. Other B.C. men who competed were Paul Guinee, disqualified because of a tumble when he was on his way to victory, Larry MacKenzie, and Ed Isaac.

YACHT CLUB

At the twenty-first annual meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Raeing Association this month the B. C. Yacht Club became a full member of this association. The Club will participate in the following events in April: April 11-Quadrangular; Hobart, WPI, BC, Bowdoin. April 17—Pentagonal; Harvard, HC, BC, BU, and MIT's 'B' team. April 19—Oberg Trophy; BU, Northeastern, Tufts, Harvard, BC, MIT. April: 25—National Championship Elimination 'A'; BU, HC, NE, Trinity, Tufts, WPI, BC. April: 29—Dual; BC vs. BU.

VARSITY CLUB DINNER

Five hundred persons attended the annual Varsity Club football dinner held at the Copley Plaza Hotel on Sunday, January 11.

A highlight of the evening was the awarding of the Varsity Club Trophy (the first ever presented) to Victor Palladino, guard on last year's team.

John P. Curley, '13, Graduate Manager of Athletics, gave letters to 46 football players present.

The past football season was reviewed in parodies written by Gerry Coughlin, '13.

Denny Myers, head football coach, was the principal speaker.

Credit for the excellent turnout is due to the efforts of the general chairman, John J. Mahoney, '29. The toastmaster was Edward F. Connelly, '31, Representatives from the Athletic Association included John P. Curley, '13; Rev. Maurice V. Dullea, S.J., '17, Faculty Director; Francis G. Bowden, Business Manager; William G. Hayward, '36, formerly Publicity Director.

Coaches in attendance were: Denny Myers, "Moody" Sarno, Dave Lucey, '40, Bob Mangene, '45-I, Tom Moran, '47, football; Al McClellan, basketball; Fred Maguire, baseball; John Kelley, '28, hockey. Present were the A. A. physicians

FOOTBALL ASSISTANT

This month Herb Kopf signed as assistant coach to Denny Myers. It is expected that he will develop a defense for the football team.

Herb formerly coached at Georgtown, Columbia and Manhattan. He also coached the professional team, the Boston Yanks.

SOARING EAGLE

The new Boston College song "Soaring Eagle," words by Nat Hasenfus, '22, and music by Ed McGreenery, '23, was introduced at the Varsity Club dinner and was sung by William Flood of West Roxbury. In sheet music form it is available at the Boston College Book Store, at the Sagadahoc Publishing Company, West Roxbury, or at Boston music stores at a nominal price. The song was published by McLaughlin and Reilly Co.

Mr. O'Brien was elected vice-president of Stern Brothers, New York City, by the Board of Directors on January 21. Previously he had been merchandise manager of the street floor of this department store.

From 1933 to 1940 he was associated with R. H. White & Company in Boston. In 1941 he went with Steigers in Hartford, Connecticut. He left Hartford in November, 1942, to join Stern Brothers.

Mr. O'Brien is married to Anne Remington (Wellesley, '40). They have one child, Marc (5½ years old).

Joseph L. O'Brien, '27, is his brother.

He is vice-president of the Boston College Club of New York.

JOHN J. HURLEY, '34

Mr. Hurley has been Treasurer, General Manager and a Director of radio station WNEB, Worcester, since it first went on the air in December, 1946.

He received an LLB in 1938 from Georgetown Law School and did graduate work at the School of Speech and Drama, Catholic University.

From 1934 to 1936 he was employed by the F.B.I. From 1936 to 1941 he was first an announcer for the National Broadcasting System in Washington and then an attorney for the same company. During the war he was a licutenant commander in the Navy, serving in Panama, on a destroyer escort in the Pacific and as a public relations officer in Washington.

Mr. Hurley is married to Eugenia Columbus of Washington, D. C., and has one child, Nancy (one year old).

SPRINGFIELD CLUB

For the first time a B. C. Club has been organized in the Western part of the State. The Springfield Club came into existence a few months ago. Philip J. Callan, '25, is the first president assisted by Dr. Horace W. Martineau, 1'9, first vice-president; Robert Coughlin, '48, second vice-president; John A. McMahon, '42, secretary; John J. Phelan, '42, Robert Houlihan, '48, Neal Phillips, '50, directors; Father Victor Donovan, C.P., '30, chaplain.

Several meetings have been held and the first annual dinner dance took place on January 3 at the Wayside Inn, West Springfield.

Alumni in the Springfield area are invited to become active members of the club. The address of Philip Callan is 126 Caseland Street. Secretary McMahon's address is 332 Rosewell Street.

MAINE CLUB

Snow has bogged down B. C. activities in Maine according to the latest report of Secretary Ben Hines, '37. He claims the president, Rev. Charles F. Bennett, '15, is hip deep in snow and marooned in Dover-Foxcroft. However, the second annual dinner will take place at Easter time.

CHICAGO CLUB

Secretary Herb Chernack, '39, reports a meeting of the Club on January 17 at the Chicago Bar Association. The Club has compiled a directory containing the names and addresses of Alumni known to be in the vicinity of Chicago. A new member is Dr. Ted Finnerty, '40.

Alumni arriving in Chicago are invited to join the Club whose official address is 35 East Wacker Drive. Telephone: CENtral 0375.

WASHINGTON, D.. C. CLUB

Alumni in Washington have reorganized their Club and it is now on an active basis. The new officers are: John F. Donelan, '37, president; Chester Prior, '22, first vice-president; Raymond T. Cahill, '18, second vice-president; William F. Fitzgerald, '43, secretary; Joseph F. Lawless, Jr., '36, treasurer; Donald V. Mulcahy, '40, Charles P. Dolan, '31, John P. Henderson, '39, directors; Rev. George A. King, S.J., chaplain.

On the day of the Holy Cross game a telephonic broadcast was arranged at the Hotel Carlton. Co-Chairmen were Bill Fitzgerald, '43, and John Rafferty, '40. About 100 were present including Holy Cross Alumni.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CLUB

Poor weather conditions have prevented the New Hampshire Alumni from meeting. They organized a club for the first time last spring electing as president Edmund M. Keefe, '29, Headmaster of Nashua High School. First vice-president is Joseph Moore, '00, West Canann, retired; second vice-president, William D. Tribble, '32, Goffstown, attorney; secretary, Leo. H. Cater, Law '42, Somersworth, Internal Revenue; treasurer, Francis W. Rice, '32, Manchester, Veterans Administration; directors, Rev. Francis J. Curran, '33, Exeter; Andrew A. Dominick, '37, Manchester, coach; Joseph B. Shea, Law, Manchester, Navy Department. Chaplain, Rev. Charles J. Leddy, '04, Dover.

Also present at the first meeting were: Robert V. Hughes, 42, Rev. David E. Hutchinson, '38, Rev. Alan R. Gibbons, '38, George B. Bray, '32, all from Manchester; Thomas G. Hennessey, '26, and Rev. Joseph Shields, '33, both from Portsmouth; Peter Chesnillevich, '33, Nashua.

President Edmund Keefe will have a meeting after Lent. B. C. men in New Hampshire are asked to send their names and addresses to him at Nashua High School or to Secretary Leo Cater, 24 Franklin Street, Somersworth.

NEW YORK CLUB

There will probably be a late February meeting. Members will be notified by Secretary Bernard Frazier, '41.

The Club offers congratulations to its vicepresident, Arthur J. O'Brien, '32, on his appointment as vice-president of Stern Brothers, and to Ralph W. Whelan, '35, who has been appointed executive secretary of the New York City Youth Board.

HYDE PARK CLUB

Recently elected officers are: Walter H. Dray, '24, president; Terrence J. Geohegan, '42, vice-president; Francis J. McDermott, '39, secretary; Paul E. Finn, '33, treasurer. Directors are John J. Buckley, '27, chairman; William D. DiMarzio, '28, Edward F. O'Brien, '28, Earl S. Foley, '39, Everett J. Ford, '21, Walter J. Gaudet, '28, Alvin J. Pierce, '46, and Robert Scannell and Kenneth Gray, students. Rev. Charles A. McIsaac, '40, is chaplain.

CONNECTICUT CLUB

Several hundred people, including many Alumni and members of the Club, attended the annual Autograph Dinner of the St. Thomas More Crusaders at New Haven last November twentieth. The dinner was in honor of Joseph Dever, '42, on the publication of his first novel, 'No Lasting Home.' The Crusaders, who are in the forefront of Catholic Action in Connecticut, arranged to have Ray Drugan, '22, introduce the guest of the evening, who autographed dozens of copies of his book at the conclusion of his talk. The sponsors considered the evening a complete success, and apparently enjoyed the restatement of the Boston legend and the B. C. saga as propunded at the speaker's table.

Prominent among new members now resident in Connecticut is John J. Gleason, '37, assigned to New Haven as special agent in charge of PBI activities in Connecticut. He has been connected with the FBI for more than ten years and holds a law degree from National Law School, Washington, D. C.

Other Alumni residing in Connecticut who have not yet joined the Club should notify President Joseph A. Fitzgerald, '13, Superintendent of Schools, New Haven, so that they may receive notices of the club activities. His home address is 102 Barnett Street.

Members have been asked to forward suggestions as to the location and program for a meeting planned for the early spring. Unfavorable weather has prevented meeting during the winter months, and some comment has been received to the effect that a theatre party, symphony concert, or glee club recital might offer a pleasant evening for all. If sufficient interest is shown, the affair can be held at New London, Bridgeport, or any city other than New Haven and Hartford, where most of the activities have been centered.

QUINCY CLUB

On January 29 at Clivedon Hall, 150 members enjoyed a dinner at which Rev. Shephen A. Shea, S.J., '20, Treasurer of the College, was the principal speaker. Paul K. Duffey, '40, was chairman and Joseph L. O'Brien, '27, toastmaster. Seated at the head table were Mayor Ross of Quincy, Revs. George H. Callahan, '27, John E. Kinchla, '41, and John M. Quirk, '37, Robert E. Foy, Jr., '21, Lawrence J. Curtin, '22, John B. O'Connor, '36, retiring president, and Alumni Secretary Hayes, '30.

Officers elected were Paul K. Duffey, '40, president; Dennis F. Ryan, '33, first vice-president; Joseph Kendrick, student, second vice-president; Joseph X. Gleason, '32, secretary; Andrew J. O'Brien, '39, treasurer; Robert E. Foy, Jr., '21, Lawrence J. Curtin, '22, John W. Kapples, '14, John B. O'Connor, '36, William Burckhart, student, directors.

LYNN CLUB

Two successful dances have been sponsored by the Lynn Club which was reorganized in December. Much enthusiasm has been evidenced by younger Alumni and students. Future plans include a concert by the College Glee Club and Orchestra at the Lynn English High School Auditorium on Sunday evening, February 29.

Newly elected officers are: James W. McKenna, '48, president; James A. Scollin, student, vice-president; Paul N. Martin, '49, secretary; John T. P. Scally, student, treasurer.

Directors are: James M. Ahearn, '25, Robert J. LeBlanc, '45-II, Joseph F. Gannon, '44, Thomas R. O'Brien, M.D., '22, William F. Pashby, '20, John J. Connolly, '39, Seymour J. Lyness, '44, Albert J. O'Shea, '32, Charles V. Hayes, '31, Charles F. McLaughlin, '32, James W. Driscoll, '04, William A. Edmonds, '29, and the following students: Paul Lauzon, Donald Thibeault and Edward L. Tobin. Serving as chaplain is Rev. John D. Day, '34.

EVERETT CLUB

At a meeting held last month the following officers were elected: Arthur J. Conway, '31, president; Fred Gibson, student, vice-president; Brendan P. O'Donnell, student, secretary; Benjamin J. Giordano, student, treasurer; Ciro R. Yannaco, student, chairman of publicity.

her Gifford's Sacred Heart

Church in Quincy was ruined by fire last month. It will have to be rebuilt at an estimated cost of $750,000.

1911 WILLIAM D. MURPHY 77 Waban Hill Road, North, Chestnut Hill 67

The Class of 1911 held its second dinner within a year at the Hotel Puritan Sky Room the night before the St. Mary's game. Eighteen members attended, among whom were the two New Yorkers, George Leonard and Leo Noonan. We were glad to welcome back Father Tim Sheehan whose illness prevented him from attending the

To make up for lost time, the Class decided to hold two meetings a year from now on. A dinner the night before one of the hig football games and a get-together at the Commonwealth Country Club on Alumni Day after the hallgame. Later in the evening attending the Alumni meeting.

A Memorial Mass was celebrated in November by Father Sheehan for the deceased members of our Class, twelve in number. This is a custom we hope to follow in the years to come.

Miah Falvey was treasurer of the Varsity Clib dinner held at the Copley Plaza on January 11. Members of the Class attending were Father John Churchward, end on the 1908-1910 teams, and loyal rooter John Mahoney. There are several members of the Class eligible to join the Varsity Clib, among whom are Fathers Frank Cummings, Joe Burke, Ed Hartigan, Al Finn, Frank Low and Tim Sheehan. Also Vin Greene, George Leonard, Pat McDonald, John McEleney and Fred Dunfey. Why not join up?

A "plug" for the book, "A History of Boston College" by Rev. David R. Dunigan, S.J. Read it and bring back memories of the old days.

Harold J. Taylor has been appointed associate general counsel for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

1913

At the 33rd annual convention of the New England Association of Circulation Managers, held in Boston last month, the group was addressed by Mat Sullivan, circulation director of the Gannett newspaper chain.

Joseph Gildea is the organist and choir director of St. Theresa's Church in West Roxhury. For a number of years he has been assistant director of music in the Boston public schools.

JOHN S .KEOHANE

12 Acacia Ave., Chestnut Hill 67

Monsignor Eric MacKenzie opened the Winter session of the B.C.
Institute of Adult Education series in January witth a talk on "The Marriage Court".

Our Class aided in the success of the Ninth Annual "B" dinner tendered the football team by the Varsity Club. Those participating were Ed Sullivan (Fresident, Teacher's College, Salem), Father Tom Ford, Sangus, Monsignor Bob Barry, Somerville, John Kapples, Dr. Tom Reid, Father John Joyce, Father Pat Dawson and Fred Doyle.

Fred Doyle's son, Richard, B.C. High, ran a brillant leg in the Senior High School relay race at the K. of C. track meet.

Father Pat Dawson's nephew, Tom, was elected to the City Council of Revere and later chosen vice-chairman of the Board.

We met Walter Hickey of Wakefield at the Gridiron Club recently. Since graduating from Harvard in 1916 he has been with one of the large meat packing houses. Walter sends his greetings to the Class and hopes to attend our semi-annual dinner in May.

Father Leo Hughes, O.P., who is now a Dominican Prior stationed in Chicago, wishes to be remembered to the Class.

Father Tom Heagney of Lynn showed us through his newly renovated rectory of which he is justly proud. Father Charles Brown, pastor at Belfast. Maine, advises that his health has greatly improved since his illness last year.

Father Bill Desmond (Lexington) was deacon at the funeral Mass for Father Jim Dowling, '15. We will miss Father Jim, R.J.P.

Father Tom Murphy is in Florida for a much needed rest after a serious attack of illness last year. John Keohane's daughter, Patricia Anne, is a senior at the College of New Rochelle.

5 The Class of 1916 held its annual banquet at the Harvard Club on January 29. It was one of the finest ever held-the setting was ideal and the food perfect. We were surprised to see so many of our teachers present. Father Stedler came on from Buffalo and he looks as virile as he did in 1913. Father Geoghan, who is stationed in Long Island, is in excellent shape, Some of the other Jesuits present were Fathers Brock, Wennerberg, Jack Reed, Jim Brennan, Bill Murphy, Tom McLaughlin and Louis Loque. Frank Mahoney impersonated a Monsignor from New Zealand and edited "the wastebasket".

Joe Scolponeti was toastmaster and presented Fred Gillis, Leo Daley and Frank Roche who presented scrolls to Monsignors Donovan, Dalton and McInnis.

Monsignor Donovan has been relieved of his duties as Executive Secretary of the Holy Name Society and will devote all his time to his parish, St. James', Boston.

Jack Atkinson had all the speeches recorded on a wire recorder and perhaps our absent brethren will be able to hear them transcribed some day. By the way, Jack's fame is growing. In a period of two weeks twenty communities sought his services.

Dr. Falvey left last month for Cuba and Dr. Roy Heffernan is due down there this month to give a talk to the Medical Society.

We learned that Leo Daley had the best football assignment of the year. He was the umpire at the Sugar Bowl contest.

All in all it was a grand reunion with 46 members attending.

Fatther Hugh Doyle is the new parish priest of St. Anne's in Readville.

THOMAS D. CRAVEN 42 Mellen St., Dorchester 24

¿⇒ John Flynn announces that notices will be sent out shortly about the annual spring dinner which will be held after Easter.

George Carroll Thompson is assistant professor of chemistry at Loyola College, Baltimore.

Jack Fibelly flew to Tokyo early in November to handle the cross-examination of Tojo as a member of the War Crimes Prosecution Commission. A year ago while preparing the case against the defendent Jack interrogated Tojo 51 times in Sugamo prison. Just before taking over the prosecution Jack was relieved and his place taken by the chief of counsel for the prosecution, Keenan. We shall have to wait to find out what the story is.

Tom McDonough has been with the First National Stores since the incorporation of the company. Prior to that he was with Arthur Dorr. Between managing the store in Codman Square (one of the best in our opinion), Dorchester, and communing to Waban where he lives, Tom has been a busy fellow. We hope to see him more often.

Father Gus Hargedon has been transferred as parish priest from St. Patrick's Church, Groveland, to Star of Sea Church, Marblehead.

Arthur Doherty was in touch with us a year ago just before he was due to visit Boston. We did not see him then nor have we heard from him since. Arthur is a manager in Rockland, Maine, where he has been for a number of years.

Father Joe Merrick, S.J., is back at Baghdad College. His Christmas Greeting from Iraq consisted of his Annual Messenger of 1947 and his Christmas Story, Father Joe will be delighted to hear from classmates.

Jack Fleming and his family have extended Christmas Greetings from Houston to the class.

Bill Welsh has been doing a creditable job as Superintendent of Schools in Peahody. He has served on important state committees of school superintendents.

Mike Hickey is still a resident of Brookline and unmarried. He has been with the Division of Employment Security for the past ten years. Mike promises that he will be more faithful in his attendance at class meetings.

George O'Day has eluded us successfully for years. We manage to get on his trail once in a while. George has been doing very well in the wool business and lives in Chestnut Hill.

"Rado" McKeon is with A.C. Campbell Co., dealers in motor parts in Boston and resides in Abington.
"Rado's" presence has been missed at recent meetings.

"Pete" McKenna reports that he is carrying on an active law practice and manages to get some golf in when the weather is right.

Father Tony Meszlis, S.J., Is on a mission band which operates from Pomfret.

Nick Petrocelli reports that his son, Joseph, is a freshman in the Business School. Young Joe established quite a reputation while in B.C.H.S. as a footballer, If his work in school permits he should make the varsity. To The Alumni Secretary:

At our Twenty-Fifth Anniversary we had our first gathering which brought the busbands and wives together. Since then there has developed a friendly association among the wives. No doubt many of them belong to Philomatheia.

On a smaller scale they have come together through our class activities and have become better acquainted with one another. One group has been active in one of the larger organizations, the Catholic Charitable Bureau, Each summer an informal day's outing for couples is held down on the Cape-one of those parties where the ladies bring the "eats" and each one does as he or she wants to do. We really have a good time and enjoy one another. The ladies have indeed become an auxiliary to the class. It took us twenty-five years to develop this adjunct. Perhaps our experience has been that of other classes. Perhaps some have matured earlier than we did. However, I feel it is safe to say that our class spirit and loyalty to Alma Mater has improved through the help of our wives in class activities. As Secretary of the Alumni, Jack, perhaps you can pass this on to the younger classes and encourage them to get their auxiliary started soon,

> Yours, Tom Craven

VILLIAM M. CASHIN
138 Independence Dr., Chestnut Hill
Wery Rev. Vincent I. Kennally,
S.J., Apostolic Administrator in the Caroline and Marshall Islands, finds the going very difficult. I really believe he is experiencing more hardship in his missionary labors than all the rest of the Class put together. He could use a little financial help. How about it fellows? His address is:

c/o U.S. Civil Administration Unit, Truk, Caroline Islands, Navy 3410, F.P.O., San Francisco, Cal.

Doctor Joe Muldoon is head of the Chemistry Department at Georgetown. He lives in Washington and has a grand family.

Father Tom Brennan, S.J., is treasurer of Cranwell Prep. School.

Dr. Jim Crowdle is still at Canislus College in Buffalo, N. Y.

Ray Cahill is Savings Bank Advisor to the Chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., Washington, D. C.

The condolences of the Class are extended to John Canavan on the death of his sister, Mrs. Welsh, in December,

1919

FRANCIS D. SHEA

56 Richwood St., West Roxbury 32
The class congratulates Father Leo O'Day on his appointment to the pastorate of St. Patrick's parish, South Groveland.

Edward Danehy has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of Schools of Cambridge, Ed has been Assistant Head Master of the Cambridge High and Latin School. His appointment makes the administration of the Cambridge schools a hundred per cent 1919 activity. John Tobin is Superintendent of Schools. Charlie Harrington is his first Assistant, and now Ed becomes the second Assistant Superintendent.

Rev. Thomas Shortell, S.J., is back home again. He has returned to the faculty at the Heights from his former association with Holy Cross. Father Shortell is very active in the labor movement and he is to head the School of Industrial Relations at Boston College.

Garrett Foley is expected to return to his position in the Cambridge schools shortly. Garrett has been sick for some time and we are delighted to hear that his health has improved to the point where he can return to work. Horace Martineau, our newly elected President, is trying to stir up interest in a gathering of the Class to be held this month. When the plans are finally set the members of the Class will be notified through the mail.

The condolences of the Class are extended to Henry Fitzpatrick whose mother died in December.

J. Robert Brawley 33 Pomfret St., West Roxbury 32 dear john i used to worry about getting these lines to you before your deadline but from now on i'm stopping that because i want you to know that i have signed a new four year contract with the class on writing these and now with my security i will not worry over anything but character and by that i mean the characters of 1920 and as i have no news of them for this issue i'm calling on all the members of the forty thieves to aid in a roundup of jeff conway, ed gervais, ray champagne, dan breen and joe burke most of whom were last seen walking towards lake street on a june afternoon some twenty eight years ago with a diploma under their arm and an education under their hat and a ticket each for a trip on the voyage of life and what we want to know is where they landed and so if anyone has any clues as to where they may be located please get in touch with the class secretary

i thank you

bob brawley

The prayers of the Class are asked for the repose of the soul of Thomas F. Luby, our classmate. May he rest in peace.

1921

GORDON F. IRONS 9 Emmonsdale Rd., West Roxbury

On December 30, twenty-six members of the Class attended the Class banquet at the Hotel Vendome. It was an enjoyable gettogether and it was a pleasure to see one another again, especially to see a few fellows who had been away from Boston for a long time. Morgan Ryan was the toastmaster and did an excellent job introducing several classmates who spoke briefly and informally. Those present were Monsignor Walter J. Furlong, Father John F. Donovan, Father William E. Culhane, Father Edmund J. Haynes, Jack Burke, Frank Connors, Arthur J. Donovan, Charlie Coyle, John Dumas, Bob Foy, John J. Foster, Thomas N. Foynes, James A. Sullivan, Harold W. Sullivan, and Judge John J. Sullivan.

Father John F. Donovan, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church, Brooklyn, N.Y., was welcomed by his classmates. Father Donovan, having been in Brooklyn for many years, has been unable to attend other meetings of the Class and was delighted to be present. He is also Censor Librorum for the Diocese of Brooklyn.

Harold Sullivan was asked to tell about some of his experiences since he left Boston several years ago. During the war Harold was connected with the Intelligence Branch of the service and was commissioned a lieutenant colonel. He related several interesting incidents he experienced while he was in the service. Harold proved he still retains his old-time ease and polish in speaking.

Charlie Coyle was recently reappointed executive secretary of the Massachusetts Hotel Association at their annual meeting, Tom Foynes is now president of the Electric Mutual Liability Insurance Company in Lynn. This company is a subsidiary of the General Electric Company. Tom is also Chairman of the Board and has twenty-six Boston College, Holy Cross, and Georgetown men in his company. Or. I. Francis Gregory, atter living many years in Maine, has announced the opening of his office at $37 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massa. Dr. Gregory's son is a senior at Boston English High School.

NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS 15 Kirk Street, West Roxbury 32

Chester Prior is still working in Washington, D.C. He is a lawyer with the Department of Justice.

Father Joseph Meredith has been appointed an assistant at St. Stephen's, Boston

Seen at the Varsity Club dinner were Father James Doyle, Tom Mahan and Al Heddermon; at the College production of "Golden Boy" were Leonard Dolan and again Al Heddermon; in Jordan Marsh Co. (no ad) was Dr. Walter Skwarlo, unheard from for lo! these many years. He looked great.

Dennis O'Leary is with the Boston Park Department.

Congratulations to Henry Smith on the arrival of the tenth little Smith, and to Ted Madden whose family now lists seven youngsters.

Arthur Tierney is supervising principal in the Revere schools. He takes a keen interest in the basketball team, being a sharpshooter himself in the old days.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to John Magee whose mother passed away in January. FRANCIS L. FORD 9 McKone Street, Dorchester 22

The first salvo of the Silver Jubilee Broadside of the Class was fired at the Parker House, Wednesday, February 4, when the annual banquet was held. President Walter ("Tony") Comerford welcomed the fine outturning and Scriptor acted as chairman assisted by several co-chairmen and a committee of over two dozen. Plans were made for a series of events in connection with the Silver Jubilee celebration of the class.

Lactare Sunday, this year, occurs on March 7, so make it a "must" on your calendar. The Father and Son idea of the past few years has been so successful that undoubtedly it will be followed again this year. You will be hearing more about this through the mails.

We want to get Father Norbert McInnis back to his rightful parish of St. John's in Winthrop after the printer in the previous issue walked him from the Holy Name parade to a parish in Dorchester. He öldn't walk that far, but Father Bill Carty did—and to his rightful station at St. Ambrose, Fields Corner.

Father Patrick H. Collins, S.J. was instrumental in having the Redberry Council K. of C. minstrel show presented at the new B.C. Auditorium in mid-December for the Building Fund. Father Collins is now Dean of Freshman at the School of Business Administration. Myles T. McSweeney, assistant city editor of the Boston Daily Record, was one of a group of newspaper men to interview movie producer Sam Goldwyn over WNAC on the opening of the new Aster Theatre in Boston.

Louis Tracy is working for the State Dept. of Education and residing in Groton, Mass.

Gerald Coughlin, headmaster of Roslindale High School, held a Sports Night there recently featuring B. C. football movies and a few members of the team in person.

Saw a picture in the Boston Post of Father Tom Lane, who assisted in the splendid tribute to the Very Reverend Daniel J. Donovan of St. James, Harrison Ave. Father Tom is assigned to that well-known parish.

Al Bedard is still the great B.C. influence in the New York and New Jersey district. He gets first-rate support from other classmates Joe Moriarty, Bill McDonaid, and Joe Delaney.

Jack Lyons is still connected with an important bureau in Washington, D.C.

Tom Eccies, head of the English department at English High School, has been elected to membership in the National Conference of School and College English.

Jim Timon is head of the Commercial department in one of Worcester's fine high schools.

If you get as far as the Pacific Coast, San Francisco in particular, look up Pete Monahan who is in the credit business there.

1924

ANTHONY E. LEBLANC 45 Maynard Street, Arlington 74

Father Daniel Hurley is now stationed at St. Peter's Cambridge, and Father James McKeon has been assigned to St. Margaret's, Dorchester.

Arthur Burns, M.D., has been appointed to the teaching staff of the Harvard Medical School with the title of Teaching Fellow in Radiology.

A correction of an item in the last issue of "Alumni News" which reached your correspondent too late for the November issue. Frank L. Ford is now a chemical engineer for M. W. Kellogg Company of 225 Broadway, New York, Frank and his family are living at 92 Colony Avenue, Park Ridge, N. J.

Dave Mahoney is married and living at 171 East 31st Street, New York City. He is employed by the New York Telephone Co.

Nick Corbett's family has increased with the adoption in June, 1947, of Eileen, who was then six months old. This makes two for the Corbetts, Timothy and Eileen.

Speaking of family additions, Dr. Carl DeSimone of Brighton is the proud father of a daughter, Denise, born last June. That makes four for Carl, two boys and two girls. Bob Merrick has recuperated from a serious emergency operation at the Carney Hospital last November and is now back to his usual line of business in New York

Father Malachi Prendergast has been assigned to St. Joseph's par-

Dr. Henry A. Rys has been appointed medical examiner of Franklin County. He has been practising for a number of years in the Turner Falls area.

Ray Scott is now principal of Rindge Evening Industrial School in Cambridge. He tells me that through a co-worker, he found out that Tom "Jiggs" Hennessey is now living in Portsmouth, N.H.

Tom Coady has a brand new son a month old—he now has four children, two and two, Nice selecting. Tom is in charge of the John Donnelly playground in Cambridge. Has anyone ever seen Joe Driscoll of Newton?

There are so many fellows whom we never see or hear from.

Johnnie Dooley tells me that he's going collegiate again—going to the B.C. Junior Prom, but John is in charge of the photographs which will be taken there and used as novel souvenirs for the affair.

John also informs me that Comdr. Ed Killion, USN, called him recentity on his way to Panama, a new Navy appointment. Unfortunately, his call was hurried, so he couldn't get much information.

Did you note one of our more quiet classmate's name in the news recently? At the burning of the Sacred Heart Church in Norfolk Downs, Father Edward Cornell was one of several priests who attempted to rescue sacred vestments and vessels from the completely burned church.

Rev. Matthew Stapleton of St.
John's Seminary, a lecturer of note on ecclesiastical subjects, was one of several priests lecturing during January at New England Mutual Hall, Father Matt lectured on "The Apostle Who Lived Before Christ", and on "The Gospel Before the Gospels".

Charlie Schroeder is active in the Boston Schoolmen's Association and is still a Master at Roxbury Memorial High School. As long as we're talking about teachers, Frank Gibbons is now heading the list of those eligible for appointment as Department head in History in the Boston schools. Frank also lives in West Roxbury.

FRANCIS X. SULLIVAN 51 Presentation Rd., Brighton 35

The Christmas reunion and reception to Monsignor Walter Leach was a huge success. Thirty-eight members of the Class braved the mountainous snow drifts and biting cold weather to gather at the Bostonian on December 29.

Fr. Joe Quane, S.J. of Boston College, spoke for the clergy of the Class, while Fred Harkins, President of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Society, represented the laymen, Monsignor "Bud" was presented with a set of breviaries as a memento of the occasion, fittingly inscribed: "To our beloved and honored classmate from the Class of "2"." Walter is the first of our group to receive special papal recognition. Let's hope that in the near future we may be running testimonials for others in the Class.

Among the clergy present were Fathers Jimmy Normile, from Brockton, Bob Hilton from Salem, Joe Lyons from Roxbury and Jim Geary, S.J. from Boston College.

Notices went out to all the members of the Class even to those in Europe and Puerto Rico. The longest trip to the reunion was made by Frank Hurley who is principal of North Arlington High School, North Arlington, New Jersey. John Lynch, who proposed the December meeting last June, hopped a plane from New York at the last moment and appeared as was, without even a toothbrush. His folks and in-laws live around Boston, out Melrose way, I believe, so he didn't have to spend the night away from friends. Dr. Bob Welch popped in a little late from Brockton. Charlie Hayden, principal of Norwood High School, was in attendance after an absence of some few years. He hasn't changed a bit, John E. Sullivan (Revere) had a good story to tell about his being confused with John E. (Beachmont, now of Ashmont). The latter is now assistant to the president of the Fisher Business College.

In the round table discussion which is always the best part of the evening the usual and, we might say, inevitable, happened. There is always a "star" born on these occasions. If it isn't someone "putting over the point" it is another one recounting his life's history or the vicissitudes of married life, or something. This time Jim Sullivan from Everett grabbed the spotlight and regaled the Class members with an account of our civic duties, especially as they pertained to procuring political and professional advancement for B.C. men. Space prevents our reviewing the speech, but those present haven't had as much fun since the night we rode with J. E. on the Narrow Gauge or tried hard to put the point over with R. F.

About two weeks after the meeting I received a letter from the Haad-quarters of the Allied Military Government — British - United States Zone, Free Territory of Trieste, from Lt. Col. Leo Keefe 7177 Mil. Gov. Det, A.P.O. 209, c/o P.M. New York).

Leo wrote "Your announcement of the Class Reunion for 29 December arrived here today (Jan. 5). While I cannot attend, it is still pleasant to receive the notices. The Alumni Magazine keeps me well posted so that while physically absent, I am always with the old gang in spirit." Leo's family is with him. Originally he was assigned as Judicial Officer for the Province of Venezia, Guilia, having under his direction all the courts of both the Italian, Austrian and Military Government, reviewing cases and occasionally taking a turn on the bench. A scandal in the Public Works Division caused authorities to place him in charge of that sphere also. He had a chance to travel a great deal in Italy-likes the country very much. "The Italians are an alert and loveable people." The present assignment will last for two years.

His closing paragraph is significant
—"The Army is a great professor,
My one regret is that I waited so long before undertaking it. It is gratifying to know that B.C. now has an R.O.T.C. unit. You will remember many years ago my advocacy of such a measure. It would have meant more commissions and higher grades for our graduates.
In spite of all that the College did a great job in the war."

The next meeting will take place in June when '27 will assemble at the Archdiocesan Eucharistic Shrine of St. Clement's to offer up the Holy Saorifice of the Mass for the deceased members of the Class who now number 28. Monsignor Leach will celebrate the Mass.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Ray Finnegan upon the death of his mother, to Jerry Sullivan on the tragic death of his daughter, and to Walter Waldron upon the death of his mother-in-law.

Tom Hayes was recently appointed the first bail commissioner in Concord. He is also chairman of the Veteran's Housing committee.

Father Bede Cameron, C.P., has been assigned to St. Paul's Monastery, Pittsburg, Pa., and Father Leo Cunningham is now stationed at St. Francis' Parish, South Weymouth.

Dont forget the Memorial Mass in June LLOYD L. DOYLE 279 Bowdoin Street, Dorcheester

Approximately 75 class members attended the 20th anniversary reunion at the Hotel Vendome, Thursday, January 15, Warren Fitzgerald—assistant Registrar of Probate, Middlesex County was Chairman. Father Walter McCracken, Father Frank Wilkie, S.J., and Capt-Elect John Furey were the speakers.

The spirit of the class was well manifested by the presence of our out-of-town classmates. Wallace Carroll, Chicago, Ill., in the machine tool business; George Levangie, New York City with the National City Bank of New York; Doctor Jos McCarthy, Concord, N. H.; Tony Russo, St. Johnsbury, Vt., regional supervisor of the Star Theatres and "Chick" Kelley, New Haven, Conn., Claims Manager, State of Conn. for American Fidelity Insurance Company.

Rox. with Mass. Dept. of Education, Victor Newton, Roslindale, Welfare Dept. of Boston.

John E. O'Loughlin, Belmont, teacher, Somerville High; Ken Richards, Dorchester, teacher Boston English; Jack Ryder, the class public relations expert. Milton, Copy Editor of the Boston Traveler. Doctor Art Shinney, Melrose, and Harold Qualters, Mansfield, teacher, were X-Raying the football situation with John Furey, Roy Tribble, Malden is in the advertising and public relations business, Boston, Art Tuchy, Dorchester, teacher Arlington High. Pat Tompkins, W. Roxbury, Commissioner of Public Welfare, Commonwealth of Mass.

Father John Kelly, St. Catherine's Frank Wilkie, S.J. and Harold Kirley are at the College and Father Henry Gately is at B.C. High. John Henry Morris, "Bo" McMenimen and Ed Conley, all successful lawyers were in from Cambridge. Doctor George Lyons, West Roxbury. Fa ther Joe Donoghue located at St. Mary's Church, Charlestown.

Charlie Dooley, Chairman of our Alumni Day activities is practicing law located on Broad St. Boston. Father Bill Casey, S.J. now teaching at Holy Cross. John McDevitt, Supt. of Waltham Schools; George Corcoran, Boston, Post Office department. Oh, I forgot, our Vice President, Dick Condon, Brighton, secretary-executive council St. Vincent dePaul and yours truly—soap does everything—were present.

Cards were received from other classmates who could not attend. Next issue will tell of their whereabouts.

A note of interest. The Class of "28" gave and pledged about $7,500 to the Alumni Drive. There are some pledges that are outstanding—please cooperate in completing them.

The class expresses sincere regrets to Frank Phelan on the death of his mother.

Don't forget April 4th-COMMUN-ION BREAKFAST.

1929

JOHN J. SPENCER

527 Broadway, South Boston 27

Jim Dean, the tallest member of the class, visited Boston during the holidays from his Michigan home and was disappointed to find that the annual dinner was not to be held on the customary Thursday after Christmas date.

About the dinner, George Donaldson polled a number of members of the class and found that what with the increasing families of class members the holiday season has hecome so wearing that it was becoming more and more difficult for classmates to attend.

It has been determined to have the dinner immediately after the Lenten season and class members will be notified in ample time.

Another caller about the dinner was Leo Donahue, the Somerville schoolmaster, who has yet to miss one.

Seen at the Varsity Club dinner at the Copley Plaza, where the fine attendance after a disappointing football season was a tribute to the energy and organizational ability of Attorney John Mahoney, our class president, who served as chairman, were Gene McLaughlin, Attorney Henry Leen and your correspondent.

Cheers for Coach Myers at the conclusion of his moving address were led by Attorney Leen, a vociferous rooter of the T-formation exponent. Henry used to root the same way for Professor Charles Dowd in Fresh D.

Court Clerk Ed Lee and family are at this writing vacationing in Florida, to the ill-concealed envy of his classmates and courthouse associates including the venerable Superior Court Justice whose courthouse he deserted for the warmer regions.

Father Joe Conneil, S.J., is the first of the Class to hit the motion pictures. He appears in several scenes of the Jesuit community in Baghdad taken by Father Bernard Hubbard, S.J., the Glacier Priest, for a motion picture exhibited in Jordan Hall in January.

Father Frank McDonnell is at St. Agatha's, East Milton, after an assignment at the Church of St. Andrew, the Apostle, Forest Hills.

The usual nice Christmas card was received from Harry Kievenaar. The card always depicts the same seene before the fireplace in the family home on Crehore Road, West Roxbury, but the number of persons shown continues to increase steadily. This year's card showed four little Kievenarrs with Harry and Jul.

The urbane Bob Hughes was sighted entering a new Cadillac (adv.) convertible at Beacon and Charles Streets the other day and shouted an inquiry about the Class dinner. Dr. Bernard Daly is practising medicine in Lawrence. He has opened an office at SI East Havethill Street. Ed Bond has been appointed head of the math department in the Everett public schools.

Lt. Comdr. Paul Broderick has been transferred from Texas to the Naval Air Station at Memphis, Tennessee.

John D. Martin is to be congratulated on his appointment as comptroller of accounts for the city of Newton.

Father Francis McElroy is now Executive Director of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies, succeeding Monsignor Donovan.

Again, congratulations to Jerry Mahoney on his great job at the Varsity Dinner.

Let you know about the dinner soon.

JOHN J. GRANDFIELD

731 Hyde Park Ave., Roslindale 31 After a great deal of serious consideration President Jerry McCarthy reluctantly decided to postpone the annual class dinner and reunion until some time shortly after Easter. The severe winter weather and the accompanying miserable driving conditions coupled with the fact that Lent is early this year forced Jerry into this decision. Jerry and the committee in charge are making plans for a very fine program at this affair, and it is expected that there will be many features to round out a well balanced evening for all. A special announcement will be sent to all members of the class as soon as final details have been arranged. Jerry has been troubled with sickness in the family but we are happy to learn that things are looking up in the McCarthy household. At press time "Red" Hoban was sweating out a new arrival. He tried to give the impression that he was rather nervous about the whole thing but your inquiring reporter woke our worried prospective father out of a sound Sunday afternoon nap on the day that Red's family was due to be increased from two to three.

Joe Whitehead has established him-

Joe Winteneau has established himself in the real estate and insurance business down Cape Cod way. Joe has hought a house and some property on Route 28 next to the water tower at West Dennis, Mass., and has set up his office there. He is specializing in Cape real estate. Joe would be only too pleased to have anyone passing by drop in and say hello. His mailing address is Box 151, Dennisport, Mass.

Father "Luke" McGowan was scheduled to leave for Washington, D.C., around the first of March to take charge of the new hospital program of the National Catholic Welfare Association. We understand that his duties will include the unification and standardization of essential policies among Catholic hospitals throughout the country.

Reports coming in from Lowell indicate the family of Dr. Bill Green, formerly of West Roxbury, has had a recent addition in the person of his second son, the fourth child.
John Dwyer had the pleasure of dropping in on Bill at his office in downtown Lowell shortly after the first of the year just hefore the prospective B. C. student arrived on the scene.

John "Mush" Magner was discharged from the Navy recently and now is associated with the South End Hardware in Boston's South End, Frank "Connie" Murphy still is carrying on with G.E. in Lynn.

It is surprising to learn that one of our more ardent winter sports enthusiasts is John M. Foley, originally of Roslindale who now lives down Wollaston way. John is reported to favor Goff's Falls and North Conway for his skiing activities and is said to be just as healthy looking as ever.

Tom Kelly enjoyed an inspection tour of the new control tower at Logan International Airport under the personal supervision of Henry Lynch. Tom recently suffered a fractured toe under rather mysterious conditions in the quiet and peace of his home. However, Bill Sullivan, our popular medico, fixed him up and Tom is able to kick just as well as ever now.

Dr. "Jack" Foley, formerly of South Boston, very quietly took unto himself a bride a few months ago around Thanksgiving time. The newlyweds have leased a single house on Beacon Street, Waban, for the present. "Jack" is specializing in the practice of dermatology. His office is located at 1101 Beacon Street, Brookline.

A recent announcement in the Boston papers carried the news of the engagement of John Warren Haverty of Brighton to Margaret Elizabeth Wrlght of Mattapan.

The Boston Pilot of January 16th carried a picture of Father Sidney McNeil, S.J., formerly of Southboro. who has been a member of the faculty of Baghdad College, Iraq, for a number of years. Although we haven't seen "Sid" for quite a while, it was easy to recognize him in the group picture.

Chaplain (Major) James McGoohan is stationed with the Army in Tokyo.

HENRY M. LEEN 15 Bennett Street, Woburn

Bill Callahan is kept busy these days with his duties as administrator for the Veterans Housing Commission in his home-town. Waltham.

John J. Murphy is doing social service work in New York City, He has a responsible position as director of the Children's Center on East 105th Street.

Dr. John Rattigan now has three children, Mary Ann, John P. Jr., and Brian Francis who was born last November.

Ed Connelly, the hammer thrower of our day performed in his usual effective manner as the toastmaster at the recent Varsity Club dinner, held at the Copley Plaza.

Also seen at the dinner were Fathers Ernie Pearsall, Charlie Flanagan, Arthur Norton and Dr. Dick Gorman, John Gill, George O'Connell, Tommy Meagher, all Varsity "B" men.

As far as I know, John C. Barker, who was with us until the end of our Sophomore year, is our only Town Manager, John, who served as Assistant Town Manager of Norwood, Mass., has recently been appointed Town Manager of Fort Fairfield down in Aroostook County, Maine.

You are asked to remember in your prayers the mother of Rev. Francis W. Finnegan who passed away recently.

Father Leo Buttimer, S.J., was in town recently to officiate at his brother's wedding. Father Leo is stationed at Fairfield University. Fairfield, Conn.

Belated congratulations to .Tom Collins on the birth of his daughter. Tom now has two boys and a girl. Seen at the Varsity Club dinner recently were Frank Finn, Ed Gallagher, Harry Downes, Al Ricci, Jim Heggie and Dr. Andy Spognardi. Tom McDonald is working for the Railway Express and has an office in the South Station.

Father Edward H. Nowlan, S.J., is stationed at St. Andrew Bobola House, 300 Newbury Street, Boston. He is working for his Doctorate at Harvard.

Dan Cahill has been appointed acting postmaster for Lawrence. He was formerly a special agent for the F. B. I.

Father George Smith has been transferred to St. John the Evangelist parish in Hopkinton.

We have finally located Father Anthony M. Larkin, He is a member of the Society of St. Edmund and is stationed at St. Rose Mission, Mon Luis Island, Theodore, Alabama.

Art King, WEEI announcer, is now living in Cohasset.

It has come to our attention that Ray Tierney is living in Baltic. Conn., and is employed by the Hamilton Propeller Company.

Andrew Mullaney is manager of the Marine Contractors, Inc., East Boston.

1933 CHARLES W. O'BRIEN

33 Hollywood Road, West Roxbury Belated congratulations and apologies to John Hanrahan, Your correspondent was occupied with domestic affairs around July 7, 1947, the date of the arrival of Barbara Jane, first-born of the clan Hanrahan, John is teaching medieval Latin two evenings a week at the Intown School.

Saw Fr. Frank Curran at a certain game of rugby at Braves Field on the last Saturday of November. Frank is still stationed in Exeter, N. H.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Al Landrigan and Ed Kennedy whose mothers died in December, Justin McCarthy has been transferred to a new assignment in the purchasing department of Lever Brothers

Two of the judges of the recent C.Y.O. Oratorical Contest held at the College Dec. 14, 1947, were Fr. Frank Desmond and your faithful scribe. Frank is now on the faculty of St. Clement's Seminary at Lake Street

Correction of last column: Bob Graney is principal of the Stone School in Walpole, not Norwood. Bob had a new arrival in the Graney household in June, making four girls and two boys in all.

Seen at the Varsity Club Dinner: John Kaveney, Tim Sullivan, Henry Fitzgerald, Vin Cosgrove, Denny Ryan, Bill Ryan, Johnny Mackin, John (in the tuxedo) Brennan, Bob Graney and "Buckey" Warren, the latter two with a couple of Bob's former proteges from Walpole High. Rumor est that Bill Ryan has started a "Class of '33 Denny Myers Fan Club" with Johnny Mackin as vice president.

Fred Boyle is now associated with Brooks Glue Co., Inc. on Central Wharf, where he is engaged in chemical research in a field with a long name which your f, s, had him spell but forgot to write down. Met Dr. Dave Casey recently in Patten's waiting dutifully for his spouse. Dave is doing some examining for insurance companies in addition to being busily engaged in practice in Arlington.

Columnist Connie Dalton got a plug recently in the space of fellow columnist David Goldstein in The Pilot. One of these days Connie's byline is going to persuade me against my own better judgement to subscribe to that sheet he adorns.

"America" recently featured an article and a letter by Fr. Charlie Donovan, S.J., both relating to the field of education.

Congratulations to Dr. Bob Grandfield on the arrival of a second little Grandfield at Willow St. (Never mind the circumlocution. O'Brien, why don't you admit that you've forgotten whether he told you it was a boy or a girl?)

Congrats, also, to Raiph Ward, whose son James was born Nov. 10, 1947. Raiph now has two lads and two lasses. In addition to his duties at home and as Director of Mathematics of the Brookline Schools, he has found time to complete his course for an M.A. at Harvard and is well on his way to a Doctorate. Tom Cook is attached to the Personnel Office at Lever Brothers. Combridge.

Good news from Watertown is the announcement of Larry McDonnell's engagement to Miss Mary T. Flanagan of Cambridge.

Joe Gibbons has been receiving congratulations on his appointment to the post of Superintendent of Schools in Stoughton.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to the family of Charlie tended to the family of Charlie Santoro who died recently. Charlie had been very successful in both the restaurant and retail beverage business.

Leo Scully has resigned from a Federal probation officer's position to accept an appointment as Supervisor of the Worcester office of the State Division of Child Guardianship. Leo is one of the few remaining members of the Class of '34 "Bachelors' Club".

A December issue of "Commonweal" carried a very interesting article by Herb Kenney, entitled "The Good Uses of Disaster" which was rather a unique commentary on the Maine forest fires. Herb's "Catholic Quiz Book" is now in its second edition.

Jerry O'Connor is the first member of the Class to acquire a full junior varsity basketball squad plus a mascot (Coach MacClellan take notice). Jerry, who is an executive of the John Hancock Insurance Company, welcomed his sixth child and first daughter (Kathleen Therese) in January.

Other family additions, all firsthorn, have been announced by: Leo Hogan of Wollaston, Bob Sullivan of Cambridge, George Stuart of Braintree. "Duke" Pavone of West Roxbury, and Jim Waters of St. Augustine, Florida.

Jack Dacey has assumed a new position in the State Division of Administration and Finance as an Assistant to the Budget Director. Jack was very active in the Newton drive for the Building Fund.

Frank Brow recently returned to his teaching position in the Boston school system.

Your correspondent recently had a letter from Fr. Tom Corcoran from whom most of us have not heard since our days at the Heights. Tom, as a secular priest in the diocese of Alexandria, Louisiana, served as secretary to Bishop Desmond and diocesan editor of "Catholic Action of the South". He later became an Army chaplain and served in the Pacific Theatre with the 32nd Infantry Division. After release from Army service, he was appointed V.A. hospital chaplain at New Orleans. In April of this year, he accepted a commission in the regular army as a major in the Chaplains' Corps and is presently assigned to the Presidio in San Francisco. Fr. John Tierney was recently transferred from St. Mary's of the Hills, Milton, to St. Peter's Parish in Cambridge.

Edward J. Sullivan is doing Naval Intelligence work at First Naval District headquarters in Boston. Congratulations to Ray Harrington who was martied late in December to the former Miss Kathleen H. Carney of Milton. Both Ray and his wife are teaching in Boston High Schools.

Class Reunion—Before this edition of the "Alumni News" has reached ,on, you will have received details of the Class banquet and reunion. An election of officers is planned and it is hoped that this will be the largest post-war get-together of the

CHARLES A. PHILLIPS, JR. 43 Richfield Road, Arlington 74

There's not much reading material in this corner for this issue and I suppose this can be traced to that wonderful weather we have been plagued with this winter. At any event, all this correspondent has to report is a couple of rumors which will either be denied or confirmed in the next issue when those classmates who make the news come out of their winter hibernation and make themselves known. Rumor No. 1: Willie Murphy has packed up and gone down Maine where I hear he is Assistant Headmaster at some school in that northern state. Rumor No. 2: Jack Fahey, whom we once elected class "social lion" has ceased social lioning and has gone and married himself off to an Emmanuel girl. My source of information says it was January 10th but we'll have to check this one for more news.

Joe Murphy has left Babson's Reports and is now working with Mass. Bonding Co. Ernie Damon has been skiing on Maine's snowy slopes in between classes at Tufts Medical. Jack O'Keefe sent his best to all from St. John's via his Christmas card. And that takes care of all the "news."

In the last issue we mentioned rather vaguely the possibility of a class meeting and reunion. The response was overwhelming and heartening. The only catch, however, is that none could agree as to the date of the affair. So, may I once again ask all you good gentlemen to communicate directly with this correspondent and after consulting your appointment calendars let me know which date is preferable and more convenient, Also, if you will, include a second choice so that some sort of unanimity as to date may be had. The only restriction is that it be some time in late February or March. You can take it from there. I cannot stress the importance and need for such a reunion. We have been out of the college near three years now and it is not too soon to start planning our five-year celebration and gift to the College. Temporary plans have been drawn up and will be presented to you at the forthcoming meeting for your approval. Thus the need for a majority to be present is obvious. Ergo: Please don't delay in sending me the dates you will be available...

The annual banquet held on January 10 at the Hotel Bostonian was acclaimed a success. Father James J. Kelley, S.J. gave his "State of the Nation" address on the progress of the new College of Business Administration building and extended an invitation to come up and be "sidewalk engineers." Father Shea, Mr. Drummey and Alumni Secretary Hayes addressed the group.

The Class voted Frank Murphy a well-earned vote of thanks for his capable leadership as president for the past year.

Dick Grainger has taken over the helm as class president for the coming year and promises another active year for "Business 42-ers."

John Glennon "mushed" his way down from Penacook, N. H., to attend the banquet. He is a purchasing agent for a chemical concern. John Mitchell is now in the Real Estate department of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

Tom McDonald has made a recent change which now finds him traveling with the public accounting firm of Griswald Co.

Howard Murray is studying for a Master's degree at B. U., and Henry McConville has left John Hancock Insurance Co. to study Law.

Congratulations to Tom Clark on his recent engagement to Miss Ann Walsh of Dorchester. The snowy weather is not his favorite subject of conversation. He is traveling for James W. Brine Sporting Goods in the Western Mass. and Vermont territories.

A letter from Bill Doonan reveals that he has abandoned the Hub for the Brotherly Love of Philadelphia. Marie's home town.

cloe Scannell was home for the "Christmas holidays and was surprised that the date of the annual dinner had been changed. Joe is doing public accounting in Chicago.

Bernie Toomey and Walter Deveney are both working in New York City. Walter is an accountant for an advertising subsidiary of Vicks but was sporting a cold when last seen.

Idle is not the word for Charlie Savage, who, in addition to his evening studies at B. U., teaches at Suffolk University and is engaged in a summer camp business in New Hampshire.

John Keane has completed his Law studies at Suffolk University and is now teaching Accounting and Business Law there.

DONALD R. McARDLE

61 Mt. Vernon Avenue, Braintree

A very successful business meeting of the Class was held at the Hotel Bostonian on November 15. Election of a new Board of Governors was held and the following men were elected to hold office for the coming year: Gerry Kirby, chalrman. Mike Gargan, vice-chairman, Harry McGrath, treasurer, Tom Patten, secretary, and Ed Boyle, Joe Minahan and Jim Cotter, Several meetings of the new Board have taken place and plans have heen made for a Class dinner to be held the latter part of February, a Communion Breakfast and a Spring dance.

The Board has also taken a glance at a very much depleted treasury balance and decided that it would be necessary to assess each member of the Class for annual dues of $1.00. The purpose of this assessment is to establish a permanent working capital for the Class. This working capital is to he a reserve fund that will always be available in cases of emergency when commitments have been made for some social function and income has not been large enough to discharge them. It is the hope of the Board that the drive for funds will be successful and that there will never again be any financial embarrassment in the Class of 1944.

Belated congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Geary, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ogle who were married last Fall. Ed is working for National Gypsum Company and John is with General Electric.

Henry Brash is working as an accountant in a shoe business and Bill Kelley is doing the same at Kiley Company.

The job of keeping in contact with the members of our Class is a gigantic one. During the ensuing month Frank and myself will send out a form letter along with a return envelope and a form which will keep us up to date. The fifteenth of each month we would like you to drop a card or a note stating any new developments such as trips down the middle aisle, engagements, births, etc. Among the missing at this writing were Gene Burlingame. Tom Cunniff, Ed Hickey and Bill Shafferman. We would like to know how you are doing, fellows, so you know what to do.

Joe McDavitt of Cambridge is selling roofing and insulating materials. The best of luck.

Joe's pal, Paul "Sam" Sutliff, is "barn storming" again.

Three members of the Class are with J. Edgar Hoover's F.B.I. "Duke" Dailey, Jim Sullivan and Marty Underwood are special agents, having completed their courses at Quantico, Va. Jim is in the North Carolina section.

Freddie D'Errico is making plenty of dough in his father's bakery in Franklin, Mass. It is the Mitygud Bakery Products and Fred would be glad to show you around if you are ever up his way. Freddie, an accounting major, is in the production end of things up there and has installed a few of his own ideas.

Just before going through Fredse's place, I was down to Providence, R. I. to see Lou Sammartino. Lou is learning the ins and outs of his Dad's jewelry business. The firm specializes in rings for fraternities schools and colleges. It also has a novelty line.

Food News Is Big News

 \star

A RECENT CHECK of a large metropolitan newspaper revealed that of a total of 483 stories, excluding sports, printed in a single week, 58 referred to food.

Food made 12 per cent of the headlines, including several prominent spots on page one. More items appeared about food than about any other subjects excepting national and international affairs.

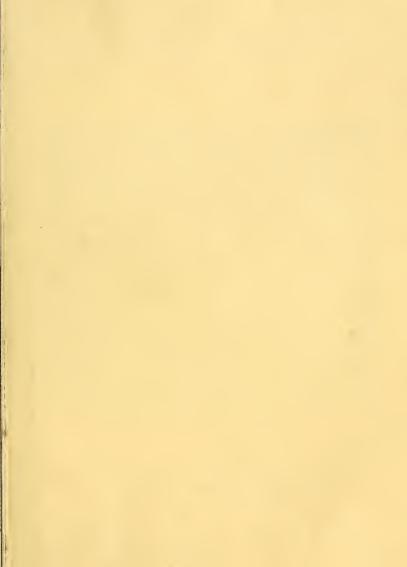

Editors know that food news is big news because it determines the health and well-being of every family in the nation and affects the livelihood of millions of Americans engaged in producing and marketing the things we eat.

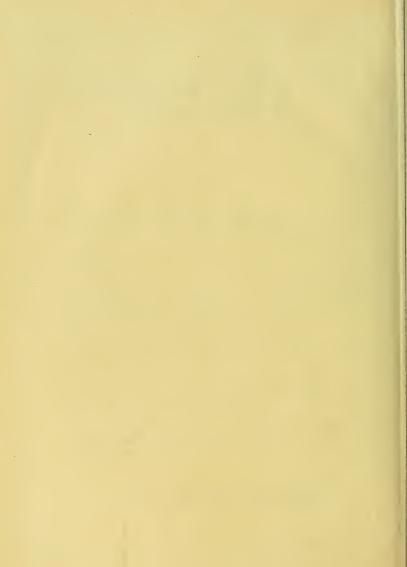

A & P has been making food news since 1859 when it was founded on the new principle of straight-line movement of foods from farm and factory to dinner table.

Every time A \mathcal{E} P has found a better way of bringing quality food at less cost to more people, it has been news of deep personal interest to millions of American families, for it has given them better shopping conditions and higher living standards.

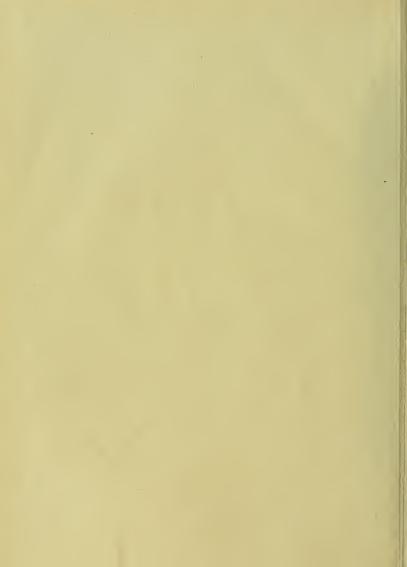

By doing the nation's most efficient job of food distribution, the men and women of A $\mathcal G$ P have, for 88 years, been making good news for producers and consumers alike.
